CHINESE

Ring Neck Pheasants to Be
Liberated in Mount
Clare Section.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE)
MT. CLARE, Aug. 26.—O. H. Adkinson is arranging with owners of adjoining farms for protection of some Chinese ring-neck pheasants which he intends to liberate in this section. A covey of the birds have been hatched and raised by him from eggs furnished by the state forest, fish and game warden. They were hatched under the common chicken hen, are in a healthy condition and appear to be contented and adapted to this climate. The only reward which Mr. Adkinson expects from his efforts in propagating these birds is that they may increase in sufficient numbers to succeed the native game birds which are fast disappearing, and he is promised the co-operation of local sportsmen.

The importance of pheasant culture can be realized when it can be seen that in a few years there will be scarcely a game bird of any kind. The native pheasant is already gone, and quail are becoming scarcer every year. Protect them as we may, with stringent game laws, we cannot save them. The only thing possible is to look around for a successor to them. This we have in the Chinese ring-neck pheasant. Enough has been accomplished with these birds in other states to know that the scheme is entirely feasible, and it is safe to say that not many years hence the bright plumage and rocket-like flight of this pheasant will be a familiar sight in many sections of Harrison county.

Baltzer H. Kramer attended the dedication of the new Methodist Protestant church at Smithtown, Marion county, Sunday. The church, which is known as the Kramer Chapel, is the outcome of a dream which came true Sunday. In a dream one night, Mr. Kramer's mother saw a church of the design of the present structure on the site of the present church. Next morning, feeling still the force of her dream, she secured the consent of her husband to donate the site for a church building, and at once started a subscription to raise the money. Dr. J. C. Bloomfield, of Fairmont, and the Rev. Mr. Steel, of Newburg, were in charge of the dedicatory services, and a monster crowd, one of the largest ever seen in Smithtown, gathered for the all day services and basket dinner which marked the occasion.

HIGH SCHOOL

At West Milford to Open
September 8 with Very Strong Faculty.

The board of education of Union district has made announcement concerning the West Milford high school for the year 1913-14.

School will open September 3. Prof. G. W. Hawkins, B. L., is retained as principal. The other teachers are Miss Blanche Warren and Miss Anna Wright. The outlook is very bright for a large enrollment this year.

Mr. Hawkins is a graduate of the West Virginia Wesleyan College. He has served as principal of the West Milford high school since its establishment in 1911. His work as principal has been enthusiastic and highly successful, and he has shown himself to be a competent school man. The students, patrons and all acquainted with his work in the past combine in praising him and agree that he is "the man for the job."
